

THE N/NEWS

No. 100 November 2012

NEWSLETTER OF THE
NESBITT/NISBET SOCIETY
AUSTRALIA

STARTING POINT

This edition of The N/News should be one of milestone celebrations - No. 100 – 25 years since first meeting at an expression of interest gathering at the home of Bruce & Helen Nesbit. A generation ago, such a fresh and enthusiastic start and many fine years of socialising, fellowship and some genealogy. Of recent years the socialising and fellowship has retreated but great gains in the genealogy have been experienced. Throughout this period Ian M & Joy Nisbet have been a driving force and stalwarts. They have been ably supported and assisted by the various committees and committee members over the years – as evidenced by the fact that we have reached this milestone, still active and in reasonable condition.

What of the N/N Society – Australia Branch into the future? I fear that some very hard questions need to be asked very shortly; the lack of active support from members and the dwindling core of committee members is not the recipe for a brilliant future.

Personally, over the 25 years I would have conservatively spent several years on N/N matters on behalf of the Society – probably 10 times that spent on my N/N's. I would be extremely disappointed to see the Society continue to fade, but do not have the energy, time resources nor skills to singlehandedly rejuvenate the Australian Branch.

Ian M deserves to now do only that which he chooses and from which he derives greatest pleasure. The rest should be able to be dealt with by others. Ian G should not need to shoulder any more responsibility and demands on his time.

Please celebrate the N/N Society milestone by ensuring that it continues and is able to service future generations – help create our legacy.

In this edition I wish to briefly review and re-visit some of our highlights. In doing so a number of deceased members will be mentioned – all with fond memories and thanks for friendships and fellowship otherwise untouched – the shared object – our surname and its numerous and various heritages and the celebration thereof.

Chairman & Editor

I authored the above over a year ago and still have not completed this edition of the N/News to a standard that I would want to issue to members. In this time, Ian M Nisbet has strived to encourage me to persevere. Likewise Jim Nisbet has also kept in regular contact – prompting me and encouraging me with his on-going interest and putting me to shame being some 30 years his junior but struggling! I am now able to perhaps see my way clear to again undertake the effort required. I must admit that I miss the interaction with members and meeting N/N's both related and unrelated and the tales and history that delivers. However, that is part of my predicament – I need your submissions, your articles, your genealogical queries and feedback to be able to produce the newsletter.

MEM-BOAR-SHIP

We have pleasure in welcoming the following new members to the Society:
Deborah & Bruce McKay of St Andrews, Vic,
Jeffrey & Sandra Scott of Fitzroy, Vic,
Margot Howard of Nelson Bay, NSW,
John & Ros Claringbold of Barwon Heads, Vic,
Oliver & Leigh Nesbitt of Broadbeach Waters, Qld, and Brian Archer of Warners Bay, NSW.

We have also been advised of a change of address for:

Jim Nisbet of Bathurst, NSW,
Ian & Gwenda Nisbet to Macleod, Vic

and change of e-mail address for:
Gem Symon and Pauline Fluerty.

NZ Regional Officer

I am sorry to advise that John Nesbit, has resigned as New Zealand Regional Officer of the Society, after approximately six years in the roll. Suggesting that "it is perhaps time for someone else to have a go!"

I would like to thank John for his efforts over the past six or so years. We require another Kiwi to volunteer to be the New Zealand Regional Officer. Unfortunately support for the Society during the past year or so has waned – but would benefit from, and be enhanced by, news and articles from across the Tasman, Bass Strait and the Australian state borders alike.

OBITUARY

Clifford Milton Nisbet

It is with sadness that I advise members of the passing of Clifford Milton Nisbet, father of Heather Ames, N/N Committee member and elder brother of Ian M Nisbet, N/N President.

NISBET. - Clifford Milton. VX114677 9.1.1919 - 24.1.2012 Deeply loved father of Heather, husband to Joyce (dec.) and Theresa, father-in-law to Alan, stepfather to Ken, grandfather to Camille and Andrew, Holly and Robert, Allison and Jye, Kate and Shaun, great grandfather to Lachlan and Lola, Kiani, Summer and Jaxon. Brother to Ian Milton and Gwen (dec.), brother-in-law Joy and Alan (dec.). Uncle to Vivian, Russell and Harley (dec.), Lyndell and Andrew. May your gentle soul rest in peace, our dearest Cliff.

Herald Sun Monday 30 January, 2012.

A memorial service was held at Tobin Brothers Chapel, Malvern on Friday 3rd, February 2012.

Cliff died whilst watching the cricket on television after having been in ill health for some time.

Eric Watson Nisbet

It is with sadness that I advise members of the passing of Eric Watson Nisbet, a long standing member of the Society.

NISBET. - Eric Watson. 6.6.1920 - 21.9.2012. Aged 92 years. Loved husband of Annie (dec.). Brother of Les and Vin (both dec.). Brother-in-law of Jessie (dec.) and Joan. Uncle of Brian and Angie, John and Joy, Tom and Michelle. Great uncle of Tim and Mel, Andy and Julia, Lauren, Chloe, Kelsea and Neve. Great great uncle of Jackson. And a great friend to many.

Published in Herald Sun on September 24, 2012.

A graveside service was held at the Wedderburn Lawn Cemetery on October 1st, 2012.

Eric was buried with about a litre of “the good oil” (genuine & pure Blue Mallee eucalyptus oil) poured over his casket.

The obituary for Eric’s brother “Vin” (Kelvin) appears later in this newsletter.

This branch of my (editor’s) family tree distilled eucalyptus in the Korong Vale and Wedderburn area of Victoria to supplement farming activities for many years. Initially at a reasonable sized operation of a boiler and steam vats adjacent to the family’s property at Woolshed Flat out of Korong Vale and then on retirement to Wedderburn Eric with his brothers set up a “stew pot” operation. The “stew pot” is now a tourist attraction in Wedderburn and the distillery at Woolshed Flat is reportedly being restored to become a eucalyptus distillation museum. I hope to one day provide much more information along with some photographs.

Nisbets of Mersington and Lambden

The family tree below was submitted by Jean Skar, who wondered if any members recognise any of the names in the tree and could thus assist her further with this family.

Eric Watson Nisbet

6.6.1920 ~ 21.9.2012

Adored husband of Annie.

A gentle, caring man, who adored the bush and the smell of eucalyptus. Loved entertaining and chatting to all. A man of principles, who enjoyed the simple things in life, with a smile.

Sister-in-law Joan, Nephews Brian and Ange, John and Joy, Tom and Michelle and their families thank you for kind thoughts, expressions of sympathy and attendance today.

DNA – update

The following material is extracted from the I Byde It Times, newsletter of the N/N Society – North American Branch, Issue 57, Jan 2012.

King Tut's DNA Surprises Experts: a genetic study of the mummies of King Tut and ten other royals long suspected of being close relatives was undertaken. Apart from positively identifying links and allowing assignation of names to various mummies previously known only as identifiers like KV55 it was established that King Tut is of haplotype R1b – where haplotypes are used as the basis of anthropological studies only. However, this haplotype is the most common haplotype in Europe with 70 -80% of English, Irish and Scottish men tested being of haplotype R1b and strangely enough less than 1% of Egypt's men are of this haplotype. So, are we related to King Tut? Yes, most of the N/N men tested as part of our DNA Project have the R1b haplotype.

N/N DNA Group 1 – 14 people tested and are related to the Clan Chief, Mark Nesbitt with members in Scotland, England, Ireland, USA and Canada.

N/N DNA Group 2 – 25 people tested and appear to have started in Northern Ireland or perhaps a family group from Scotland who settled in the Ulster Plantations of Northern Ireland during the 1600's. Members in Ireland (counties: Down, Armagh, Monaghan), England, Scotland, USA, Canada and Wales.

N/N DNA Group 3 – 22 people tested and seem to come from Ayrshire, Scotland but are probably connected to the old Barony of Nisbet, further back in time and includes Nisbet of Greenholm from the mid 1500's. This group is a world-wide group with members in Scotland, England, Ireland, USA, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Groups 4 to 6 have only 2 or 3 members and 11 tested persons remain unassigned. The primary reasons for different DNA groupings and unassigned tests are:

- Unrelated men assuming the name as they lived in the original Barony of Nisbet
- Re-marriage and adoption of children as Nisbets
- Men's surnames changed to inherit female Nisbet's property
- Orphaned or foster children being adopted by Nisbet family
- Illegitimacy and use of mother's (maiden) name instead of father's.

The following material is extracted from the I Byde It Times, newsletter of the N/N Society – North American Branch, Issue 59, Sept 2012, page 8.

While NN Society DNA groups 1 & 3 are known to come from Scotland, DNA group 2 seems to have very strong connections to the old Plantation of Ulster in Northern Ireland. Almost all of the NNs who match DNA group 2 know their male NN ancestor came from Northern Ireland, but no one can prove ancestry back to Scotland. Either a NN family from Scotland settled in Ulster, or adoptions of the name took place in Ireland when children were adopted and given the Nesbitt name.

Biblical Names: Unlike DNA groups 1 & 3 from Scotland, DNA group 2 men seem to have many Biblical names. The following NN men are known to be in DNA-2: Aaron, Abram, Amos, Andrew, Caleb, Isaac, Jacob, Jeremiah, Jonas, Jonathan, Joseph, Moses, Nathanael, Peter and Samuel. You will find a few, but not many names of NNs in Scotland like those listed above, only from Northern Ireland and the USA.

There is no proof of where this DNA group of Nesbitts got all these Biblical names, but if you refer back to the article on the Huguenots (not reproduced here) you will see that they also used Biblical names. Both groups were persecuted, executed and fled their homelands as Protestant dissenters, ending up in Europe, UK, Ireland and North America.

Some Huguenots and Covenanters may have intermarried in Ireland due to similar religious beliefs. Many marriages between German, English, Scots and French Protestants did occur in the US 13 colonies, and both groups settled in NJ, PA, MD and VA during the early 1700s.

The following material is extracted from the I Byde It Times, newsletter of the N/N Society – North American Branch, Issue 59, Sept 2012, page 11.

A recent study conducted at Trinity College Dublin, Ireland, found that a striking percentage of men in Ireland (and quite a few in Scotland) share the same Y chromosome, suggesting that the 5th-century warlord known as “Niall of the Nine Hostages” may be the ancestor of one in 12 Irishmen. Niall established a dynasty of powerful chieftains that dominated the island for six centuries. Niall is placed in the traditional list of High Kings of Ireland. His reign dated to the late 4th and early 5th centuries. The Annals of the Four Masters dates his accession to 378AD and death to 405AD.

In the study scientists found an area in northwest Ireland where they claim 21.5% carry Niall’s genetic fingerprint, says Brian McEvoy, one of the team at Trinity. The same area of Ireland has previously been the subject of anthropological study and has shown a strikingly high percentage of men from Haplogroup R1b (98%) versus 90% in southeast Ireland. According to McEvoy this area was the main powerbase of the “Ui Neill Kings,” which literally translated means “descendants of Niall.”

McEvoy states: “As in other societies, the siring of offspring was related to power and prestige.” The study mentions that just one of the O’Neill dynasty chieftains who died in 1423 had 18 sons with nearly a dozen women and claimed 599 grandsons. “Niall of the Nine Hostages” received his name from the taking of hostages as a strategy for playing mental havoc upon his opponent chieftains. He is known in folklore as a raider of the British and French coasts. His descendants were the most powerful rulers of Ireland until the 11th century.

NN Society DNA groups 2 & 4 are not an exact match with Niall of the Nine Hostages’ DNA, with group 4 the closest. Group 4 matches on 22 of 25 markers, which is close enough to raise some eyebrows. Group 4 is not very large, but maybe they are descended from someone very special in Irish lore.

William's parents were Robert Nisbet and Harriet Steven, John's parents were George Nisbet and Jacobina Begbie (according to the Victorian death index). Adrian Home Nisbet - my father - died last Jan 2011, since then, family has been coming out of the wood work, much to my excitement.

Two aunts who I didn't know existed Jennifer and Janet Nisbet, Janet lives in America and Jennifer in Sydney.

Half sister Fiona Nisbet lives in Sydney.

Cousin Ian Scott Stevenson and his wife Teena live in Sydney.

Another half sister Katherine and her brother Alex live in Sydney!!

Long and the short of it is that I am visiting Sydney in February and am meeting all the above family!!!!

What a pity it took my father's death to bring us all together. I have lived in Australia for the past 33 years and never knew they were there!

My aunt Janet has visited my sister in England for the 1st time last Sept, according to all reports, they loved each other straight off and had a great time catching up.

Will sign into the guestbook with an update after my visit.

Jennifer Nesbit – “smoko stories”

N/N member, Jennifer Nesbit has published a book of short stories entitled “Lead Dust ... to Red Dust”. Congratulations Jenny!

The “Blurb” reads:

“At the tender age of eighteen Jenny left the lead dust city of Broken Hill as a newlywed to start a new and very different lifestyle on an outback sheep and cattle station. Her initiation to bush life was through the sixties’ drought with constant red dust storms. Jenny’s book is a biography of “smoko stories” describing some of the trials and tribulations of her journey and life in the outback. It is filled with laughter and tears.”

December 2012

Dear N/N member

As you will be aware there has been a hiatus during 2011-2012 in the publishing of 'The N/News'.

This issue of the newsletter marks a significant event as it is 100th edition of the Nesbitt/Nisbet Society Australia's newsletter. The first edition was published in October 1986, just over twenty six years ago.

While the absence of a newsletter during the past year is regrettable, the Society has been making some significant achievements behind the scenes.

The most notable of these is the Bio-lineage Directory. This directory builds on the significant work completed by the then N/N Australia's Archivist, the late John Lawrence-Cairns-Smith-Barth, entitled "A Biographical Dictionary" published in 1994.

The new directory links and consolidates the numerous individual entries of the biographical dictionary into family lineage groups. Currently there are approximately one hundred and twenty lineage groups for Nesbitt/Nisbets.

Enclosed with the newsletter is a proforma which members are requested to complete and return to the Secretary either to update your family history or to provide new information for incorporation into the Bio-Lineage Directory. The new directory will assist N/Ns identifying connections with other N/N families, and for N/Ns just starting out on family history research, it may provide a significant first step.

Other activities at various stages are; upgrading/updating the N/N Society website [www.nnsoc.asn.au], place - based N/N family history, eg. N/Ns of the Riverina NSW and upgrading 'The N/News'.

Your continuing support is welcomed.

Clan Greetings

Ian M Nisbet President
